I've long admired the way Amos Werner and Sign Depot presents themselves/ I first came across them at a trade show... Their booth was so classy and wall to wall eye candy... every single piece. Digging further their business card and brochures were just as fantastic. While I'm seldom in the market for wholesale signs I took a card and brochure just to remind myself how to do it right!!

I talked with Amos when I saw his booth and his professional manner spoke that very same language. When I got home I took the time to check out his website... and it too was nothing less than first rate. Class act from start to finish!

Tonight, after connecting through a link on Signs Never Sleep I rediscovered Sign Depot's website... its been redone since my last look a while back... and its better than ever!

Take a look and you'll discover magic for yourself...

You're Right! Impressive to say the least.
